Dejan Dincic – Technical Coordinator

Dejan is technical director of DiploFoundation, where he designs software and co-ordinates technical activities supporting innovative online learning and research programmes. With a professional and academic background in information and educational technologies, Dejan has more than 20 years of experience in information architecture and management, online communications, and systems design. Before joining DiploFoundation, he worked on harnessing the potential of information and communication technologies in the developing world. His major research interests include software usability, instructional design and online communities facilitation. He can be contacted at dejan@diplomacy.edu

Katharina Höne – Social Media Coordinator

Katharina has been working on Diplo’s online courses (climate change diplomacy, multilateral diplomacy, diplomatic theory and practice, and development diplomacy) since 2008. She also manages Diplo’s climate change online community. She holds a Master’s degree in Diplomatic Studies from the University of Leicester and recently completed a PhD at the Department of International Politics, Aberystwyth University, Wales. Her research focuses on the role of language and emotions in international relations. She can be contacted at KatharinaH@diplomacy.edu or on twitter @kathone.

Tereza Horejsova – Conference Manager and Coordinator of the Geneva Internet Platform

Tereza has been working with Diplo since 2012 on project development activities. She has coordinated the activities of the Geneva Internet Platform since its beginning. She also manages other DiploFoundation projects in cooperation with the Federal Department of Foreign Affairs of Switzerland. Tereza has a PhD in International Studies and an MA in European Studies, both from the Charles University in Prague. Before joining Diplo, she taught at Middlesex University in Dubai, and Charles University in Prague. She also worked at the EUROPEUM Institute for European Policy as an EU-issues expert and project manager. Tereza can be contacted at TerezaH@diplomacy.edu or on twitter @TerezaHorejsova.

Arvin Kamberi – Multimedia Coordinator

Arvin Kamberi is Diplo’s webinars and multimedia coordinator working on video, multimedia, and the remote participation. He was involved in the earliest attempts of remote participation in international organisations as a remote HUB organiser and remote participation coordinator. Arvin has been involved in the IGF and EuroDIG remote participation since 2009. If you have any questions regarding remote participation or video at the conference venue, please approach him. You can contact Arvin at ArvinK@diplomacy.edu
Mary Murphy – Reporting Coordinator

Mary joined the Diplo Team in July 2010. Originally from Ireland, she is now based in Budapest, Hungary from where she oversees Diplo’s operations. Mary has had a varied career in operations and administration, with work experience in the financial, energy, NGO, communications training, public speaking, and publishing sectors in Ireland, the UK, Hungary, and the USA. She holds an MA in International Publishing from Oxford Brookes, UK, and a Master in Contemporary Diplomacy from the University of Malta. Mary can be contacted at MaryM@diplomacy.edu

Roxana Radu – Conference Coordinator

Roxana is a PhD candidate in International Relations/Political Science and a Research Fellow at the Geneva Internet Platform. Prior to starting her PhD, she worked at the Center for Media and Communication Studies, Central European University (Budapest), where she conducted research on cybersecurity, e-government, and e-participation, and (new) media regulation. She is an alumna of DiploFoundation’s Internet Governance Capacity Building Programme, ICANN’s Fellowship Programme, and ISOC’s Next Generation Leadership Programme. Her current research focuses on new modes of governance for global Internet policy-making. Roxana can be contacted at RoxanaR@diplomacy.edu

Barbara Rosen Jacobson – Conference Assistant

Barbara is one of Diplo’s assistants and currently pursuing a Master’s degree in International Affairs at the Graduate Institute, prior to which she studied the topic in the Netherlands and in Morocco. She has volunteered at GovFaces, a starting web-based platform aimed at improving online communication between citizens and politicians, and has worked as an editor for MIcompany, a consultancy firm which focuses on Big Data and Market Analytics. Aside from IG, she primarily focuses her research on the role of ethnicity in intra-state conflicts. Barbara can be contacted at BarbaraR@diplomacy.edu

David Rüfenacht – Geneva IG 360° Exhibition Coordinator

David is working as a consultant for the Geneva Internet Platform and coordinating the Geneva IG 360° Exhibition. He has worked as a social researcher and project manager for institutions such as the Haute Ecole d’Art et de Design’s Critical Curatorial Cross-cultural Cybermedia MA programme, University of Geneva and the Haute Ecole de Travail Social. David holds an MA from the Graduate Institute and an MA in Social Anthropology from the University of Neuchâtel. He can be contacted at DavidR@diplomacy.edu

Hannah Slavik – Remote Participation Coordinator

Hannah has been Diplo’s Educational Programmes Director since 2003 and has worked with Diplo since 1999. She is currently responsible for designing learning methodologies, planning educational policy, cooperation with partner institutions, and online course development and implementation. She has also edited three Diplo publications: Language and Diplomacy, Intercultural Communication and Diplomacy, and Roma Diplomacy. Hannah has an academic background in linguistics, holding an MA from the University of Malta and a BA from the University of Victoria, Canada. She also holds a Postgraduate Diploma in Open and Distance Education from the Open University, UK. She can be contacted at HSlavik@diplomacy.edu

For questions, comments, or requests during the conference please approach one of the members of the conference team. For any urgent queries, please contact Tereza Horejsova at +41 79 85 84 496.

Geneva Internet Platform